2010 Kit Pricing

NEW KIT PRICING WILL GO INTO EFFECT FEBRUARY 1, 2010
(at 'high' noon Pacific Time)

As in past years, we are offering our customers the opportunity to avoid any kit price increases by placing their kit orders before the increases take effect.

Pricing policy: Aircraft kit orders, including Standard and QuickBuild Kits, accompanied with a 25% deposit, will sell for the price in effect the day the order is received at Van's. (NOTE: customer instigated shipping delays will result in price increases).

New kit orders received on or after 12 noon (pacific time), on February 1, 2010 will be subject to any 2010 price increases.

We anticipate a rush of orders as this date approaches. Customers should expect lead times to be longer than usual for most Kit orders placed during this period and can help expedite their orders by:

1. Sending in orders as soon as possible.
2. Filling out the order forms completely and accurately.
3. Including their deposit or payment method (CC number) with the order.

Thank you!
